

Where the Locals Go

Four residents on their favorite diners, dry cleaners, and barbershops

TERRENCE JONES is president of the Wolf Trap Foundation for the Performing Arts in Vienna.

Early morning on the weekends, I bike the Washington & Old Dominion Trail (wodf-riends.org) from my house in Reston all the way to Vienna to have breakfast at the Vienna Inn (120 Maple Ave. E., Vienna; 703-938-9548; viennainn.com). For lunch, I like Natta Thai (153 Glyndon St., Vienna; 703-242-4323; nattathai.com). I love kale, and just today I had stir-fried chicken with chili sauce and the best crispy kale I've ever had.

I call Bazin's on Church (111 Church St., NW, Vienna; 703-255-7212; bazinsonchurch.com) my Cheers. It's got a great bar, and everybody knows your name.

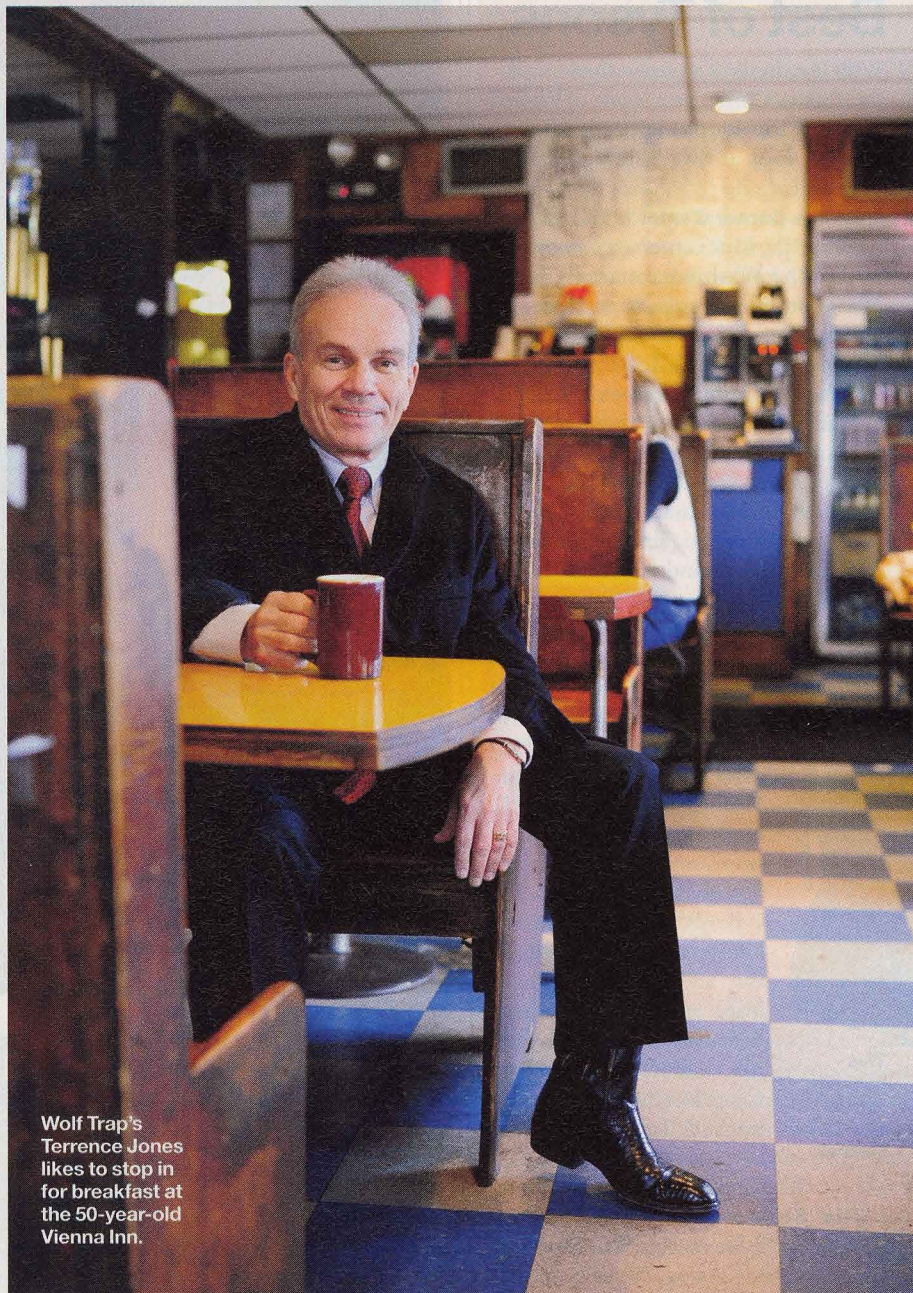

I'm a photographer, so I do a lot of framing. Bob Cramer at Creative Framing (332 Maple Ave. W., Vienna; 703-938-1281; creativeframingva.com) takes such care and is incredibly patient with customers. He has a great understanding of picking the right frame for any piece of art.

For wine, I always go to Vienna Vintner (233 Maple Ave. E., Vienna; 703-242-9463; viennavintner.net). Victor Mendes is the proprietor. Talk about willingness to take time—he knows his wines. I always send people who are planning a picnic at Wolf Trap there. He knows how to take care of them.

LYNDA ERKILETIAN is founder of T.H.E. Artist Agency, a modeling agency in Georgetown, and was a cast member on Bravo's "The Real Housewives of D.C."

I raised my children in McLean and just moved back here last year. We used to live in Georgetown, and I'd try different places there, but I kept coming back here. It's a beautiful place to take long walks.

When I was in Georgetown, I found myself sending my nanny back to McLean to use McLean Cleaners (1407 Chain Bridge Rd.; 703-356-5321; mcleancleaners.com). I've used it for my day-to-day clothing for 20 years. And believe me, I've tried plenty of dry cleaners.

Wolf Trap's Terrence Jones likes to stop in for breakfast at the 50-year-old Vienna Inn.

I have a chubby little pug named Ichiban with a ton of allergies, and pugs are high-maintenance when it comes to health care. I take him to Old Dominion Animal Health Center (6719 Lowell Ave., McLean; 703-356-5582; odahcenter.com). They're really on top of it, sending me letters and letting me know what's due for my animals. I also have a beautiful, feisty Siamese cat named Little Bon Bon, and she has her grooming there every three weeks. They also have a store where I can get everything from beds
